The plane ticket is your travel ticket. You can buy one from an airline or a travel agency, either by direct sales at a counter, or by distance-selling (Telephone, internet, etc.).

Next to the usual ticket, as flight coupons issued on paper to passengers (completed either manually or through automatic process), passengers are offered now a second formula. This is the electronic ticket.

In fact, some companies issue electronic tickets. In which case a passenger's itinerary receipt will be handed upon request.
